BUSINESS

- With plastics recently being portrayed as a villain of the environment and receiving the most criticism, you must be wondering whether this is the right industry to be in or not.
- While the global market is expanding with growing resentment over Chinese products, India is rightly placed to capture the growing global market for plastic finished goods.
- What is the future for exports from India? How to encash these opportunities? Listen to the expert!
- Meet our ever-obliging sponsors who also offer great machinery and auxiliaries for the industry.
- Stand a chance to even strike a great bargain on your next purchase!
